

SECURITY COUNCIL

The committee started with a moderated caucus. United States proposes a new plan so the power will be more effective, they did not want to reform all the United Nations' plan. China says that it should be a requirement but the United States said that the only way is by having a plan good enough to join a collision. Sudan stipulates that the plan that Iran is proposing is easier in since other countries will easily agree to it. The United States is going to use the military forces in any cases but it will change depending on what is the situation. A moderated caucus started in which Germany intervened saying that they have to take into account the principles of Aut Dedere aut Judicare. Then a unmoderated caucus of 15 minutes in which the United Kingdom and France explained what is the purpose of the collision and what are the principles that they have, having in mind the Aut Dedere aut Judicare. Israel said that they respect and support the rules of the collision but they still say that they will not work with terrorist. Sudan proposes an alliance between the countries to reach an agreement to defeat terrorism. Then Russia and China intervened saying that they were inviting other countries, particularly the United States, the United Kingdom and France to desist from making a new plan and instead try to reach an agreement. Then the committee start the paperwork, so they start working in groups so they could reach an agreement.
